Leading for quality mathematics and social justice in mathematics teaching is necessary if we are to dismantle institutional structures, policies, and practices that promote systemic inequities in mathematics education.

In this pre-conference session, leaders will engage in activities and discussions that will foster

- reflection on the status of their institutions in terms of social justice
- identification and acknowledgement of the roles power, privilege, and oppression play in the current unjust system of mathematics education
- action to transform mathematics education policies and practices that do not serve to promote fair and equitable mathematics teaching and learning.
